++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Staying dry and settled this weekend.

Today:
Another cloudy and grey day in many areas, with mist and murk in places. However, sunny spells are likely for Cornwall and skies may brighten across Devon, Somerset and Dorset later. Brisk easterly winds on some coasts and feeling colder. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Winds becoming light for most and staying generally cloudy with any clear spells becoming confined to western areas. Mist and fog forming especially in the east. Mostly frost free. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Sunday:
A murky day with low cloud and fog, most persistent in the east of the region. Some sunshine is again likely in west Devon and Cornwall. Feeling rather chilly. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Remaining dry and settled. Many areas cloudy at first but some sunshine is likely, especially on Tuesday and Wednesday. Frost and fog in places overnight and feeling increasingly cold.
